Kenilworth MP Jeremy Wright is keen to attract more visitors to Kenilworth and has put tourism at the top of his agenda.

Jeremy argues that Kenilworth's economy will benefit from better promotion of the town's assets, including Kenilworth Castle.

As Jeremy puts it, "We can do more to market Kenilworth and bring people here to the advantage of the town's shops, restaurants and hotels. I want to ensure that we all work together on this."

As the Member of Parliament for Rugby & Kenilworth, my job is to help everyone I can who lives in the constituency, whatever their age or background.

I may not be able to solve every problem, but I will listen and do what I can. Please let me know if you think I can be of assistance.

If you prefer to come and see me, I hold regular surgeries in Kenilworth, details below.

I look forward to meeting you and to being of service to you.

Jeremy reaches out to constituents

As part of Jeremy's commitment to be more accessible to everyone he represents, he has been exploring new ways to reach them.

This has included rural surgeries in village halls and open discussions in local pubs.

Local MP Jeremy Wright has welcomed the news that redevelopment of Kenilworth Town Centre is finally going ahead.

"Improvements at Talisman Square and Smalley Place will make a big difference to the town centre and are long overdue. We must now make sure that the arrival of Waitrose creates a retail environment attractive to other good quality shops as well as to shoppers."
